Turks Win Over British.
BERLIN, March 8.—The Overseas News Agency has sent out the following dispatch:

"A dispatch from Constantinople gives a report from Baghdad that the Turkish advance troops, supported by volunteers, have made a successful attack on Chalke, to the southwest of Korna, which lies at the confluence of the Euphrates and Tigris rivers, 38 miles northwest of Basra. Several British prisoners are said to have been taken and in addition the British suffered heavy losses in killed and wounded."

THOUGHT SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Unionville, Mo.—"I suffered from a female trouble and I got so weak that I could hardly walk across the floor without holding on to something. I had nervous spells and my fingers would cramp and my face would draw, and I could not speak, nor sleep to do any good. I had no appetite, and everyone thought I would not live."

Some one advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had taken so much medicine and my doctor said he could do me no good so I told my husband he might get me a bottle and I would try it. By the time I had taken it I felt better. I continued its use, and now I am well and strong.

"I have always recommended your medicine ever since I was so wonderfully benefited by it and I hope this letter will be the means of saving some other poor woman from suffering."

Mrs. MARTHA SEAVEY, Box 1144, Unionville, Missouri.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as that above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

JOINT COMMISSION CREATED TO SETTLE BOUNDARY QUESTIONS

UNITED STATES AND DOMINION OF CANADA HAVE BUFFER BETWEEN THEM.

Treaty of 1909 Provides for Commission and Will Adjust for Settlement All Such Questions as May Hereafter Arise—So far the Commission Has Proved Success.

BY BURTON K. STANDISH.
(Written for the United Press.)

WASHINGTON, March 17.—If the United States ever has trouble with Great Britain it will not grow out of the fact that for four thousand miles or so the United States touches one of Great Britain's colonies, the Dominion of Canada. So thinks U. S. Senator Wesley L. Jones. While ordinarily boundary lines are the surest source of war-making, the United States—and likewise England—is protected in that instance by a buffer that is improving its value, Senator Jones thinks. The buffer is the international joint commission, created by the treaty of 1909, to settle all boundary questions then pending and "to make provision for the adjustment and settlement of all such questions as may hereafter arise."

This commission is composed of: Obadiah Gardner of Maine, James M. Tawney of Minnesota, and R. D. Glenn of North Carolina, for the United States; Henry A. Powell, K. C., New Brunswick, Charles A. McGrath, Ontario, and P. H. Mignault, K. C., Quebec, for Canada.

Although organization was not effected until January 10, 1912, owing to the delay in naming of his appointees by the king of England, the commission already has adjusted more difficulties. Senator Jones says, "It has still others to dispose of."

"Its work is a tribute to the genius and progressive international statesmanship of the two great English-speaking nations of the world," said Senator Jones in discussing the topic. "It must be apparent to anyone that with a boundary between two countries almost 4000 miles in extent, with millions of people living side by side under two separate and distinct governments, whose commercial, financial and industrial relations are necessarily and intimately related, and who are the owners in common of a vast property which marks almost one-half of that boundary, conflict of interest will arise in the future as in the past. Between two countries in the world is there a boundary of such tribunal extent."

"Diplomacy does not afford the people of two nations, whose rights and interests are involved in any international controversy, the opportunity to appear face to face to have their controversies determined upon sworn testimony and according to the principles of law. The necessity therefore for the existence of this commission or some similar tribunal will exist therefore as long as there exists the necessity for courts either in the United States or Canada. This is so because of the exercise of their common right to the use of the water which marks the boundary between them."

"The treaty between the United States and Great Britain creating this international court of justice makes the most advanced step yet taken by two nations in the history of the world—not only for the settlement of international questions, but for the settlement of questions of less consequence between the people of both nations."

"There are many arbitrations between the U. S. and other nations. Doubtless there are many between other nations of the world, but there are none between any other two that creates a tribunal composed of citizens of both nations for the settlement of international questions between their governments or between their people. This commission therefore, charged with the duty and having the power partially to work out the great problem of whether or not the theory of international peace through arbitration can or cannot be made a success, should have the hearty support of both governments."

"In my judgment, this tribunal furnishes an example to the world."

SICK SKINS MADE WELL BY RESINOL

No matter how long you have been tortured and disfigured by itching, burning, raw or scaly skin humors, just put a little of that soothing, antiseptic Resinol Ointment on the sores. The suffering usually stops right there! Healing begins that very minute, and in almost every case your skin gets well so quickly you feel ashamed of the money you throw away on tedious, useless treatments.

Resinol Ointment is not an experiment. It is a doctor's prescription which proved so wonderfully successful for skin troubles that it has been used by other doctors all over the country for twenty years. No other treatment for the skin now before the public can show such a record of professional approval. Every druggist sells Resinol Ointment (50c. and $1.00), and Resinol Soap (25c.). They do wonders for pimples, blackheads, dandruff and chafings, and are a comfort to skin-tortured babies.

THOUSANDS GREET BIG LINER AS SHE COMES INTO OREGON PORT

GREAT NORTHERN STEAMSHIP MAKES FIRST TRIP SUCCESSFULLY.

Large Throng Gathers at Flavel to Bid Welcome to Craft—Fog Delays Vessel in Columbia River Early in Morning But Berth is Finally Reached Safely.

ASTORIA, Ore., March 17.—James J. Hill's long planned and much-talked-of freight and passenger service to San Francisco became a reality yesterday when the giant turbine liner Great Northern steamed into Flavel harbor to the mighty cheers of a host of Oregon people.

It was an important event in the annals of Oregon and Oregon seemingly appreciated the fact, for a large portion of her population was on hand to bid the steamship welcome. Seven thousand lined the shores and docks surrounding the harbor, all of them highly enthusiastic and openly displaying their pride. The Hill invasion was not accomplished, perhaps, in the manner in which it originally was planned. A steamship service has been inaugurated in place of the earlier discussed rail connection.

"The right of way is cheaper and the operating expenses are not so high," said the elder Mr. Hill on his last visit to Portland in explanation of the substitution of steamship for rail service.

Ship's Entry Impressive.
The arrival of the Great Northern marks the beginning of regular steamship service between Flavel and San Francisco. Sailings will be provided at either end every four days. The ship is due to leave Flavel at 1:30 this afternoon on her return voyage.

The Great Northern presented a beautiful sight as she steamed up the Columbia river. She was two hours late in arriving at the docks, due to heavy fog which she encountered off the Oregon coast early in the morning. She came into wireless communication with the Astoria station at 8 o'clock, and reported that she had been compelled to slow down to get safely through the fog. She passed Tillamook Rock at 12:40 yesterday afternoon and entered the river at 1:45 o'clock. She maintained a speed of about six knots an hour as she came into the Columbia. It was precisely 2:24 when she tied to the dock.

Trap is Set for Nurses.
BERLIN, March 8.—How a wise old surgeon determined which of 20 youthful nurses he should accept for service is told in the Tagliche Rundschau. The young women had spent six weeks in training in one of the big garrison cities and at last stood before the superintendent.

"I congratulate you," he began "on your willingness to serve the cause of the Fatherland. Previous experiences however, have shown me that all does not always go well with those serving in the sanitary divisions, that the work proved distasteful to them. Will those who would prefer to serve exclusively in the officers' ward please step forward."

Shyly and blushing 15 of the 20 young women stepped out of the line. Whereupon the surgeon continued in his amiable tones: "I thank you, ladies. Of your services I shall not avail myself. Your decision indicates to me that you have not yet attained the necessary degree of earnestness required of those serving our wounded soldiers."

Bismarck's Granddaughter Wedded.
BERLIN, March 16.—The marriage of Countess Hannah von Bismarck, granddaughter of the famous Chancellor, to Captain von Bredow was announced by the Overseas News Agency.
